

The Archetypal Rebirth Journey of Venus at Helical Rise

These are the approximate dates (may be within a day for those not in the Pacific time zone) for the Helical Rise of Venus calculated for 10 degrees from the Sun. Bold Dates Indicate Archetypal Shift to a New Sign in the 5 Star Pattern of Venus

Look for the Venus Cycle that began prior to your birthdate to find your Venus Overtone or Meta Goddess.

For example, if a person was born in January of 1956, they would use the Nov 21, 1954 Overtone of Venus in Scorpio. If a person was born in August of 1956, they would use the June 28, 1956 Venus Overtone of Gemini.

Be sure to note that the overtone of Venus is secondary to the sign Venus was in at the time you were born. The Meta Goddess Overtone tells us what archetype of the feminine was on the world stage at your birth or describes the feminine expression being integrated into the collective psyche of humanity at that time, providing additional information and an additional flavor to your personal Venus. Additionally, Venus as morning or evening star or with the Sun or in one of its three retrograde phases (evening star, with the Sun, or as Morning star) all has significance and additional meaning that helps you understand your overall personal Venus signature.

To locate your next Venus return - look for the date just before your multiple of 8 year birthday (8, 16, 24, 32, 49, 48, 56, 64, 72, 80, 88, 96, 104) that matches your Venus Meta Goddess - or the new Meta Goddess if it shifted signs - up to 2042. Again the bolded dates show a shift in sign. For example, someone who turned 40 in December of 2018 or March of 2019, or May of 2020 would use the Venus cycle that began Nov 1, 2018 representing a new Meta Goddess or overtone shifting from Scorpio to Libra.
