

2019 August Celestial Timings

by Cayelin K Castell

In late July 2019 I had the great privilege of attending my first Lynn Andrews event. To explain how this came about I am sharing with you the letter I wrote for Lynn's scrapbook celebrating her 30 years of doing this weekend event that originated in Joshua Tree, California (in 2019 it took place at Chapel Rock in Prescott, AZ) and how Lynn's books have impacted my life. Lynn is pictured at the end of this sharing.

Dear Lynn,

I haven't met you but I have been reading your books since the late 1980's. Your first book Medicine Woman came to me when I was a young mother with a 5 year old and twins that were age 3. My marriage was painfully falling apart and I was deeply scared and hurt. When I read Medicine Woman I consciously decided I wanted to live a magical life and found the courage to file for divorce and trust what was next.

It took awhile to navigate the changes but I soon found myself in a whole new much happier life that included a fourth baby (very unplanned but a most welcomed gift). Just two weeks before my youngest was born in May of 1990 I found my life's work (though I didn't know how BIG that work would be or that it was mine to do then). In short this work is about connecting others to the magical link between the Earth and Sky through a system called Shamanic Astrology returning visual astronomy to astrology and the importance of knowing the Night Sky.

This remembering also helps us to understand the shift of a Great Year or 26,000 year cycle way bigger than the shift to the Age of Aquarius because the December Solstice Sun is on the Galactic Cross near Galactic Center most precisely from 1962 to 2034 and that is what let's us know how really big this Turning of the Ages is.

Nothing is ever enough if you don't accept yourself as complete in this moment.
Even if highly successful,
if you do not accept yourself, you will continue to long for something that isn't.
~Lynn V Andrews Star Woman

Back in the 90's a series of unexpected events led me to write The Shamanic Astrology Handbook for Daniel Giamario and led me to help found the Shamanic Astrology Mystery School. (You might find it interesting that Shamanic Astrology got its start in the early 80's at Joshua Tree when Daniel started leading astrological vision quests there. I didn't know Daniel then or about Shamanic Astrology at that time (that happened in 1990) but I did get a chance to co-lead a group with Daniel there in 2001 where big magic was evident in the land and the people.) For me getting to do this work has been beyond magical in so many ways and I am immensely grateful for the decision I made to live a magical life all those years ago inspired by your book Medicine Woman.

In 2006 about three weeks after my March Fourth birthday (a command to March Forth into life) on March 27, 2006 I had a powerful dream about being initiated by circle of women in a cave - Sekhmet opened the way and invited me to enter the cave - where a circle of women were waiting to take me through a powerful initiation ceremony that involved brilliant red and white crystals, sacred waters and more. It was extra vivid and felt soooooo real and because I was in menopause at the time this dream was unexpected as I had been experiencing a bit of a dream drought - perhaps due the severe anemia I didn't even know I had until months later.

6 months after the 2006 dream I was in a bookstore when your book The Woman at the Edge of Two Worlds leaped out at me. Of course I bought it and immediately started reading it. Imagine my delight when I read about being initiated by women in sacred caves around the world or sacred caves in the dreamtime connected to sacred guardians, keepers of the caves when women reached menopause...that was so my dream!

At the time I got this book, I didn't know I had just had my last menstrual cycle two to three weeks before. I was awestruck by the magical, unexpected confirmation around what my March dream was about. It also felt like confirmation for the many changes I was going through at the time including legally changing my entire name and my entire life as a result.

Lastly, I want to share the magic that brought me to this gathering with so much gratitude to you for how your work has touched my life. Here is a little back story to help this make sense.

I don't remember the exact year I read Jaguar Woman but it was sometime in the 1990s and I felt such an affinity with your story and Jaguar Woman that I couldn't explain. My memory is fuzzy on when I read the book but the dates that follow are seared into my memory.

In March of 1995, I was initiated into an Awakening the Priestess Within Process that changed my life and brought even more magic into my life. In 1996 during a ceremonial session with one of my Priestess Sisters

I had a vision of a Black Jaguar. I didn't know there was even such a thing as a Black Jaguar. I questioned the vision asking - Panther? The answer came back emphatically - Jaguar!

I was confused because although I knew about jaguars - I didn't know about Black Jaguars. A day or two later I happened to see a news story (it was unusual for me to watch the news) about a Black Jaguar that had just been brought to the Phoenix Zoo. Whoa! That was my first confirmation that black jaguars were real and I knew it was a confirmation this was one of my animal guides.

In 2002 I met a Jaguar Shaman in Peru reminding me of a vision I had three years before where I saw myself as a Priestess in a Jaguar Temple and we were all slaughtered. I knew I was there to heal that trauma in high ceremony on the Island of the Moon at the December Solstice Full Moon.

In 2005 Mayan Elder Don Alejandro was in Tucson giving a talk and he was doing private sessions. In my session with him he told me I was born on the day of the Jaguar. I was so not expecting that and was blown away realizing my connection to Jaguar was even more profound than I had imagined.

Over the years, Jaguar has been in my awareness including several significant hikes on the sacred mountain to the Tohono O'odham known as Baboquivri about 50 miles SW of Tucson where they have cameras set up to study the Jaguars. The last time I was there was In 2009 in Brown Canyon co-leading a ceremonial Priestess group on a sacred journey. In the visitors center, much to my surprise they had a stuffed jaguar (not black). It was the closest I had come to have a personal encounter with this animal at that time and it was profound for me even it was no longer alive.

In 2015 I was at the Tucson Zoo with my oldest son and his now wife and we saw two black jaguars there. I didn't know they were there until I saw them as I hadn't been to the Tucson Zoo in many years.

In January of this year (2019) I randomly came across an article celebrating the return of the Jaguar (their numbers have increased by 20%) in Central America. That sparked something for me and I started doing more research about the jaguars and Mayan Jaguar Days and feeling Jaguar was calling me to remember.

Synchronistically, at the same time one of the women in our Venus Alchemy group posted on our group Facebook page a quote from your book Jaguar Woman that she was re-reading. The quote coincided with the ceremonial journey of Venus through the chakra gates into the underworld and I knew this was a message for me.

I immediately went to my book shelf and got my copy of Jaguar Woman and started re-reading it. I was so inspired by re-reading that book all these years later I decided to start at the beginning and re-read Medicine Woman, Flight of the Seventh Moon, Star Woman and am currently reading Crystal Woman and plan to finish the rest over this year. I had forgotten a lot and its been so fun to revisit these stories that you tell so masterfully - reliving the magic that inspired my decision all those years ago.

A few weeks later on March 3, the day before my birthday I was on Facebook looking at a friend request. For some reason this person was also friends with you on Facebook as am I. So out of curiosity I felt guided to check out your Facebook page and saw this event in Prescott, Arizona. I showed it to my husband (I call him my BHE - Best Husband Ever - my third husband I have been married to for almost 13 years now) and told him I was considering going and he responded with "I am giving that to you for your birthday!" One of the reasons I call him my BHE because he is so supportive that way.

I imagine this will be one of the best birthday presents ever and I am feeling so excited and delighted to get to do this live event with you. The added extra bonus is I am getting to share with you now how your work has been such a gift in my life.

I imagine this event will be another life changing experience for me. Thank you, thank you, thank you for the catalytic magic your books and your work and your journey has brought to my life!

The End of the Letter

(Image here is of the Elk Pole and all the ceremonial ribbons from the past 30 years including mine)

So YES...this was a magical catalytic event (truly one of the best birthday presents I have ever had) with a wonderful gathering of so many kindred spirits and the experience of high magic in a ceremonial setting. Below is Lynn at the final sharing to the left and the prayer ribbons to the right.

August 2019 Celestial Timings

Due to the July event the August Timings are not as complete as I had hoped. August 1 and 21 are the next Jaguar Days as described here with some of the story in the letter I shared above <https://cayelincastell.com/ix-day-of-the-jaguar/>

The August Cross-Quarter known as Lammas or Lughnassadh is celebrated by many on the 1st of August. The actual solar cross-quarter when the Sun reaches 15 Leo is on August 7. This Harvest Festival known as Lammas in Christian Times became the time for offering the first fruits of the harvest.

In pre-Christian times this festival was known as Lughnassadh (pronounced Loo-nuh-suh) and was celebrated at the Full Moon closest to the actual cross-quarter when the Sun reaches the midpoint between Summer Solstice and Autumnal Equinox.

In ancient Celtic and pre-Celtic times the Cross-Quarter dates were a time to celebrate the Mother Goddess in her many forms.

The August cross-quarter is a time to honor the Sun Goddess through celebrations of gratitude for the abundance of the Earth's bounty.

The February cross-quarter celebrates the Mother's power to give life,

The May cross-quarter celebrates her passion for life's pleasures,

The November cross-quarter celebrates her power to live through death and be born to new life.

At this 26,000 year Turning of the Ages what then are the new emerging ceremonies and celebrations that are relevant now?

When we consider this was a time of gratitude for the bounty of the Earth and a time for sharing the fruits of the first harvest - then we can imagine that this is a time to find new ways to express gratitude for the gifts that support and sustain our physical bodies.

Another sacred day is celebrated in Cartago, Costa Rica honoring La Negrita. The story of this divine feminine figure describes a small Black Virgin statue found by a young girl in 1635 on a rock near where the town of Cartago is now located. The statue demonstrated magical powers by always mysteriously returning to the spot where it was first found. Finally a church was built on the spot and that is where La Negrita resides to this day. On August 2, Pilgrims from all over Central America journey to honor her.

August Sky Magic

August begins within the Leo New Moon (8 Leo 37) window exact July 31 at 8:12 pm PDT or 11:12 pm EDT as the Moon reaches its Perigee within hours of the exact New Moon on August 1 increasing the potency of this New Moon Window also featuring the Beehive Cluster, sometimes referred to as Praesepe (the manger).

Aug 01, 2019	12:12 AM	Perigee New Moon	08Leo37	Bee Hive Cluster, the Crab
Aug 30, 2019	08:38 AM	Perigee New Moon	06Virgo47	Just Past Regulus, the Lion
Sep 28, 2019	03:28 PM	Perigee New Moon	05Libra20	Zaniah, the Virgin Priestess

With the New Moon near the active hub of the Beehive (Venus is near August 1, 2 and 3 and Mercury is near August 15, 16 and 17) this is a time for intending to connect with ways to anchor the bee mysteries of cooperation and collaboration through ceremonial intent. Bees have specialized ways of communicating to the greater collective letting the members of the hive know where they can find nectar to bring back to the hive for the production of honey.

With the Libra Meta Goddess/Venus in her underworld journey connecting with the Beehive Cluster is reminding us of the importance of the Sun symbol in relationship to Bee Medicine because it is the Sun that opens the flowers allowing the bees to gather the nectar they later turn into honey.

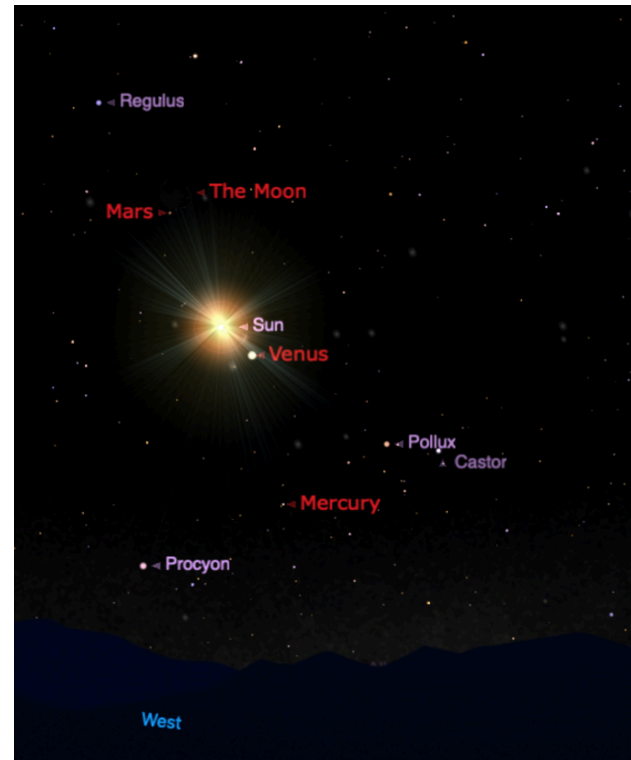

Bees work in productive harmony with the cycles of the Sun and in community co-creating the sweetness of life. Bees seemingly accomplish the impossible suggesting we can accomplish anything we put our energy and passion towards.

Celtic traditions saw Bees as representing hidden wisdom and Venus is hidden traveling with the Sun until September 19. FYI the beehive cluster in the sky is 590 light years from Earth meaning traveling at the speed of light it would take 590 Earth years to reach that area of the sky.

This New Moon features planting seeds for exploring new ways of communicating your vision through active intention. It might be by proclaiming it out loud, writing it down, dancing it, singing it, creating an altar that symbolizes it, making a gratitude offering.

The idea is to do whatever will help you get the message that is yours to get, or to activate the message that is yours to activate.

August begins with Venus and Mars in the underworld continuing to emphasize the underworld initiation. Venus meets with the Sun August 13 and then with Mars on August 24.

Planets in the Glow of the Sun near the New Moon Point August 1, 2019
Sun and Venus with the Beehive not visible because the Sun is there

The best meteor shower of the summer is the Perseids visible from July 25 to August 18 with the peak days occurring August 10-13. This year the bright Full Moon makes it difficult to see the splendor of this meteor shower but it still might be possible to see several meteors streak across the sky.

The Perseids come from the constellation Perseus rising between 9 and 10 pm in the North East. These meteors originate from the dust and debris left by the comet Swift-Tuttle and can reach up to an impressive 80 meteors an hour at their peak.

The Archer (a.k.a Sagittarius) and the Scorpion are two prominent constellations worth checking out during the summer months in the Northern Hemisphere. The Archer is shaped like a bow and arrow though many current day star maps show it as a Tea Pot. The archer is aiming its bow directly at Galactic Center and also points to Antares, the heart of the Scorpion. The Archer is similar to Centaurus in sharing the half man, half beast motif. Centaurus is the constellation located below the Scorpion and only visible in latitudes further south around 32 degrees north all the way to the equator and beyond.

August 8 is the heliacal rise of Sirius for those at 32 degrees North Latitude

However, based on its declination Sirius does not actually become visible before the Sun rises until around August 7. The heliacal rise of Sirius was important to many ancient cultures. For example, the Egyptians began their new year with the return of Sirius to the Morning Sky, because this event signaled the rising of the Nile river.

The heliacal rise of any star or planet occurs when it rises or appears in the east just before Sunrise. G.R.S. Mead author of Thrice Greatest Hermes says:

"In the astronomical science of the Egyptians, the most conspicuous solar system near our own, represented in the heavens by the brilliant Sirius, was of supreme interest. Cycles of immense importance were determined by it, and it entered into the highest mysticism of Egyptian initiation."

August 11, Mercury enters Leo at 03:45 pm EDT and 12:45 pm PDT bringing our attention to the lens of perception that operates through radical radiant self-love, self-approval and self-confidence. Mercury is speeding through Leo entering Virgo on August 15. That means we have a couple of weeks where Mercury is assisting us in seeing how our thoughts and words are either supporting the experience of growing self-love or NOT. If your thoughts and words are contrary to this experience this is the time to ask what you can do to align yourself more fully with the gifts of healthy self-love – especially as the Sun (until August 23) is also in Leo.

August 13 is the Mayan Creation Day

and when the Sun and Venus are exactly conjunct in Leo <https://cayelincastell.com/maya-creation-day-august-13/>

The Scorpion is one of the largest constellations visible in the night sky this month and with its curved tail clearly looks exactly like a Scorpion in mid-northern latitudes. In Hawaii however this constellation rises up looking like a fish hook and so the native Hawaiians call it Maui's Fish Hook. Story <http://hawastsoc.org/deepsky/sco/>

The constellation Lyra (visible from April to October) is named after the Harp or Lyre of Orpheus. He was the musician that entertained the Argonauts in their search for the Golden Fleece. Hermes is also credited with inventing the Lyre and then giving it to Orpheus.

This is a dim constellation though Vega, the 5th brightest star in the sky, is located here. Vega was the pole star 13,000 years ago and will be the pole star again in 13,000 years. Vega is also one of the three bright stars marking the summer triangle along with Altair and Deneb. Lyra is the radiant, or origin point, for the annual April 16 to 25 Lyrids meteor shower.

Altair, the eye of the Eagle, is the southern star of the summer triangle. It is the lone bright star in this constellation known as Aquila the eagle.

Zodiacal Light

Also according to Guy Ottewell's Astronomical Calendar, August and September are the best time of year to see the zodiacal light (sometimes mistaken as the atmospheric glow of dawn) about 1-2 hours before dawn. This is the "false dawn" mentioned in the Ruba iyyat of Omar Kayyam a famous Persian Astronomer and Poet.

Sky Happenings for August 2019

Mercury stationed direct July 31. FIND out MORE <https://cayelincastell.com/mercury-direct/>

Mercury is constantly appearing and disappearing as it dives into and out of close proximity to the Sun. This month Mercury is spending most of August visible before sunrise having stationed right on the edge of the Sacred Hoop of Stars. <https://cayelincastell.com/the-sacred-hoop-of-stars/>

This is the best time to see Mercury in the morning sky in the northern hemisphere this year.

On August 3 Mercury rises more than an hour before the Sun shining at about +1.4 magnitude so it's just on the edge of visibility.

By August 9 however Mercury reaches its greatest elongation in the morning sky of 19° from the Sun shining at zero magnitude and rising about 90 minutes before the Sun for those skywatchers who are around 40° North latitude.

Mercury increases in brightness throughout August until it gets close to the Sun disappearing from view around August 26 as it moves towards its exterior conjunction to the Sun on September 3.

Venus and Mars are both lost in the glow of the Sun throughout August making their exact conjunction on August 24 at 4° Virgo. This is the first time in at least 155 years since Venus and Mars have come together in this part of the sky featuring the divine feminine mastery of conscious, co-creative, collaborative, relationship with the awareness that so much more can be accomplished together than on our own. Literally two people can carry a long way what one person can not lift. United together for the GOOD of all life is a powerful way to engage this underworld meeting.

Find out more in this special webinar on the Venus Mars meeting in the underworld. Details are here <https://shamanicastrology.com/underworld-saga-webinar>

In the book Galactic Shamanism this powerful invocation describes the possibility of what happens when we reach a place of balance and wholeness between the masculine and feminine within and without...

Then...it is...that the new cosmology will begin the birthing of a New Day...

Then...it is...that the princes and princesses of all the fairy tales... can meet...Then it is...that we shall hear the fairy tales...

Then... it is...that we shall hear the stories of "and they lived happily ever after...and the story begins"...

The stories never told...for they were rarely lived...

Then...it is...that the stories will be told...

For archetypal woman...is true, original woman... and she will draw nigh unto her... archetypal man...

and together they will dance a new dance unto Creation's Story...

Her-Story will finally be added to

His-Story to make the True Story...the TruStory...

and the new world will begin...

~ Galactic Shamanism the Star-Stone Ones by Mary Saint-Marie/Sheoekah

Venus is conjunct the Sun on August 13 at around 20° Leo. Venus rises into the evening sky around September 19.
Mars rises into the morning sky when it reaches 15° from the Sun in mid-October.

On August 26 Mars reaches aphelion or furthest distance from the Sun in its current cycle while making its exact conjunction with the Sun - from the Earth's perspective - on September 2.

Jupiter is shining brightly near Antares this entire month stationing direct on August 11 at about 14° Sagittarius. Jupiter is fading now from a -2.42 to a -2.2 magnitude this month though still very bright and high in the evening sky visible not long after sunset. Jupiter sets around 2 AM as August begins and around midnight as August ends.

Retrograde Saturn (15° Capricorn 36') is located in the sign of Capricorn and the constellation of the Archer. Saturn was opposite the Sun on July 9 so it was at its brightest and closest to the Earth.

Saturn is shining at a +0.2 magnitude as August begins and fades to a +0.3 magnitude as the month ends. On September 18 Saturn goes direct at 13° Capricorn 55' closely aligned with the star Nunki marking the vane of the arrow of the Archer at 12° Capricorn 39' pointing towards Galactic Center. Saturn sets around 4 AM in early August at around 2 AM at the end of August.

Some August Moon Happenings

The waxing Gibbous Moon is visible in the head of the Scorpion on August 8 and with Jupiter on August 9 to the upper left of Jupiter and Antares.

On August 11 the growing bright Moon is to the far right of Saturn.

August 20 the waning Crescent Moon is to the upper left of Aldebaran and moves to be with the horns of the bull on August 25. <https://cayelincastell.com/the-horns-of-the-bull-gateway-to-the-elysian-fields/>

The Sun is in the Lion Constellation from August 11 to September 16

The Sun is in the seasonal Sign of Leo from July 23 to August 22

Details about the Sun in Seasonal Signs and Constellations at this link

<https://cayelincastell.com/the-13th-sign-misunderstanding/>

The sign of Leo and the Constellation of the Lion are about embodying and expressing love – including: the love of self, the love of life, and the love of others in ways that raise our vibrational frequency, assisting in further shifting and raising the vibrational frequency of Earth.

This speaks to the miraculous healing power of love when we surrender what we think we know and embrace the unknown.

Surrendering what we think we know and the life we have planned for ourselves creates the space for us to embrace the life that is ours to live in alignment with the miracle of Great Mystery.

Being willing to ask questions without already knowing the answers can greatly assist this process helpful. Fred Alan Wolf summed this up brilliantly in the closing lines of the movie “What the Bleep do We Know?” Interestingly the Movie title is a question and the movie ends with this question:
Asking yourself these deeper questions opens up new ways of being in the world. It brings in a breath of fresh air. It makes life more joyful. The real trick to life is not to be in the know – but to be in the mystery.

August features not only the Sun in sign of Leo but also Venus, Mars and Mercury placing a spot light on the radiant divine mysteries of the power of love inherent within each of us. One way to consciously participate is to embrace the radiant love that permeates every cell of our body - illuminating every aspect of our lives calling our full attention to the Power of Love, particularly the power of self-love, loving ourselves, loving every aspect of who we are and what a miracle it is that we are here to share our love with this world. Love heals everything and answers every question. It fills us with wisdom, inspiration, and magic.

Love is truly all we need because from it comes the confidence, the knowing, the trust that all our needs are met in every moment and all life is perfect just as it is. In the place of pure love there are no attachments to how things “should” be.

Pure radical radiant love embraces the all of life and is not trying to fix anything or anyone, but lovingly accepts what IS. Pure love has the power to heal the wounds of the past and present when it is allowed full expression in the moment. Truly loving ourselves, truly loving and accepting who we are in every moment is a key alchemical ingredient that transforms our world into a Golden Age.

Marianne Williamson sums this up beautifully in her book A Return to Love.

In every relationship, in every moment, we teach either love or fear. To teach is to demonstrate. As we demonstrate love toward others, we learn that we are lovable and we learn how to love more deeply. As we demonstrate fear or negativity, we learn self-condemnation and we learn to feel more frightened of life. We will always learn what we have chosen to teach. ~Marianne Williamson A Return to Love

Another August Constellation

In the Month of August the constellation of the Bull (a.k.a Taurus – the constellation NOT the seasonal sign) rises before the Sun. Featured in this constellation are the Pleiades (marking the shoulder of the Bull) where the Moon is August 23 and Aldebaran one of the four royal stars of ancient times where the Moon is August 24, and the Horns of the Bull - Alhecca and El Nath - where the Moon is August 25.

<https://cayelincastell.com/the-horns-of-the-bull-gateway-to-the-elysian-fields/>

Aldebaran (eye of the Bull or enlightened mind) and the Pleiades (shoulder of the Bull) are Behenian Stars. Star lore varies from culture to culture but often carries similar themes. For example, the Pleiades as the seven sisters shows up in both Native American star lore as well as Greek and Roman. Some cultures see the Pleiades as their home world and/or as a Stargate - transmitting the divine light of love.
